

Figure 6. The number of ground beetle adults collected from winter soil cores from habitats dominated by different functional groups. Error bars are the standard errors of the mean, and different letters indicate significant differences based on Tukey's HSD multiple comparison test.

